Istanbul, the City that Embraces the East and West

History and Culture

Istanbul has been home to many different cultures and civilizations throughout history, and is in a very unique location as the only city in the world that connects Europe and Asia. The city's deeply rooted history offers visitors a rare experience through its synthesis of the East and West. You can discover historical and natural treasures such as the Hagia Sophia, Topkapı Palace, Dolmabahçe Palace, Grand Bazaar, Spice Bazaar, Basilica Cistern, Cistern of Philonexos, Sultanahmet Mosque, Süleymaniye Mosque, Maiden's Tower, Galata Tower, Bosphorus, Balat, Anadoluhisari (Anatolian Castle), and Rumelihisari (Rumeli Castle) in this beautiful city full of numerous monuments remaining from the Roman and Ottoman Empires.

Shopping

Aside from bringing historical splendor and modern life together, Istanbul is also the shopping center for Turkey and the Middle East. You can visit and experience the distinct atmosphere of over 500 year-old places such as the Grand Bazaar and the Spice Bazaar, the arasta bazaar, coppersmith bazaar, used-book bazaars, and local bazaars that sell organic and authentic goods. The modern side of Istanbul offers visitors over 100 shopping malls that meet every taste and budget imaginable.

Art

Istanbul is a city full of cultural and artistic inspiration. You can visit numerous museums and galleries that exhibit artifacts that have been witness to history, or works of modern art. As the cradle of civilization, Istanbul offers visitors over 50 museums such as the Archeology Museum, Sakıp Sabancı Museum, Istanbul Modern, Koç Museum, SALT Galata as well as numerous modern art galleries you will encounter as you roam around the streets.

Gastronomy

Istanbul carries the wealth of having hosted various cultures over to its cuisine with numerous restaurants and street vendors, creating a gastronomical feast for its guests. Being a gastronomical city, Istanbul offers a chance to experience various delicious flavors from Turkey's seven regions as well as many samples from international cuisines.

Istanbul

- Built on the European and Asian continents, Istanbul is the only city in the world that has land on two continents. This unique feature is combined with a blue sea that slings into the city, and the magnificent view of the Bosphorus.
- Istanbul's geopolitical location enables the integration of characteristics from both Eastern and Western cultures. The city's mystic and provocative harmony calls for exploration; it is a familiar and modern world city where you can safely enjoy yourself.
- Istanbul is among 20 of the world's largest cities and has a population of 15 million people.
- Istanbul is one of the world's oldest and most magnificent cities, having been capital to three empires: the Roman Empire between 330-395, the Byzantine Empire between 395-1204 and between 1261-1453, and the Ottoman Empire between 1453-1922.
- Istanbul is home to Hagia Sophia, which holds the title of being the largest cathedral in the world for nearly a thousand years since it was constructed, as well as the title of being the world's oldest cathedral. Hagia Sophia is also the world's fastest-built (5 years) structure, and was open to worship for the longest period of time (15 centuries).
- Tünel, built on the Taksim-Karaköy line in 1875, is the third oldest metro station in the world.
- The Grand Bazaar has 3000 stores inside, and holds the title of being the largest covered bazaar. It is a known fact that the Grand Bazaar has hosted half a million people in its most crowded days.
- Famous writers like Paul Theroux, Ernest Hemingway, and Orhan Pamuk have said that they have taken inspiration from Istanbul.
- The famous English author Agatha Christie wrote Murder on the Orient Express in Istanbul at the Pera Palas Hotel.
- The symbol of the Dutch, the tulip, was first sent to the Netherlands from Istanbul in the form of tulip bulbs.
