WHY TUCSON?

- ❑ In December 2015, Tucson was designated a City of Gastronomy by the United Nations Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organization (UNESCO), becoming the first and only city in the United States to receive such a designation. Tucson's passion and creativeness for local food banks, seed libraries, community gardens, farmers markets, community kitchens and literary luminaries is what earned the city this international title.
- ❑ Tucson is one of the oldest continually inhabited locations in the United States, with evidence of agriculture and irrigation going back 3500 years. In addition, prehistoric hunt sites have been located that date back to 15,000 BCE.
- ❑ Located just 1 ½ hours south of Phoenix and 60 miles north of the international border, Tucson is a city that boasts rich history and incredible natural beauty.

History of the Hacienda

- ▶ The History of Hacienda Del Sol goes back to 1929, when it was built as the Hacienda Del Sol Ranch School for Girls, a college preparatory school for the daughters of the nation's wealthy elite families. Alumni includes the families of the Westinghouses, Campbells, Spaldings, Pillsburys, and Maxwells (to name a few). Girls would live at Hacienda Del Sol for 8 months out of the year and receive scholastic instruction in all standard areas plus additional training in horseback riding, equestrian care, and an assortment of outdoors skills.

World War II and Beyond

- ▶ In 1944, Hacienda Del Sol was converted into a guest ranch that immediately attracted the Silver Screen's most popular stars. Legend has it that the Hacienda's Casita Grande was a favorite romantic hideaway of Spencer Tracy and Katharine Hepburn. Leading men John Wayne and Clark Gable both signed their names to the hotel's illustrious guestbook. Howard Hughes, who owned a filming studio in Tucson at the time, found comfort and privacy within the walls of the Hacienda.
